Breeder/Farmer

Ballym Rocco is a well put together bull, he has excellent confirmation and displays super length, width and muscle. He is a fine example of the Charolais breed and portrays all the attributes and qualities you would expect, while carrying one copy of the Q204X myostatin gene. His calves inheriting these desirable traits makes him a good choice for pedigree producers. In the top ICBF percentiles for carcass weight and confirmation, Rocco is sure to provide top quality progeny for commercial and pedigree breeders alike.
